

Minimal Medium Totalitarian

Communitistic organization distorted to: Totalitarianism

Socialistic organization distorted to: Mediumism

Democratic organization distorted to: Minimalism

The actual constructive progressive ideology of organization is from Communitistic to Socialistic to Democratic forms of organization. The first, Communitistic ideological organization, grows or evolves into the next, Socialistic ideological organization, which then grows or evolves into Democratic ideological organization. Therefore, true Socialistic ideological organization is built on Communitistic ideological organization and true Democratic ideological organization is built on Socialistic and Communitistic ideological organizational structures. They are a growth, progression, or evolution of a hierarchical system of human evolution of consciousness, awareness and manifested activity of government, religious, scientific, artistic, educational, social, business, economic, etc. structures. These progressive ideological structures of Communitistic, Socialistic, Democratic are in the final stages of synthesizing on a higher 'mental' level of human awareness for the majority of humanity. Since long ago they have synthesized on the physical level with the majority of humanity saying, no, to ideological wars, economic disparities, etc. (so armies had to be built and mercenaries had to be payed); more recently these ideologies have synthesized in humanity's emotional nature with the majority of humanity not wanting ideological wars, etc. (so drafts and military services had to be employed); and now these ideologies are synthesizing into humanity's mind with the majority of humanity not believing the reasons for ideological wars, etc. (so propaganda for one system of government over another or form of freedom over another must be called for and fought for among the citizens).

Communitistic is the basis for all ideological 'foundational or fundamental' rights of all people. Everyone must have opportunity and access to and be treated to the common life. Every person is given an equal opportunity to fulfill all fundamental needs of life being taken care of, as they determine appropriate, and having the right over fulfilling those fundamental needs. This has been distorted and perverted into Totalitarianism and centralized authority which is the antithesis of ideological Communitistic organization.

We must understand that no true form of ideological Communitistic, Socialistic or Democratic organization has ever been allowed to come into being (except in the minds of some people) by those selfishly evil individuals who would use the new ideological organization to their own selfish ends. When a true form did start to come into being it would be tried to quickly crushed, if it was not quickly crushed it would be tried to not be allowed to spread, if it did spread it would be tried to not be allowed to be written about, if it was able to be written about it would be tried to be censored and vilified, if it was not able to be censored and vilified it would be then distorted and perverted. So, here we are with three perfectly divine forms of ideological organization which are in harmony of the huge majority of humanity and can help the whole planet come into balance and we are in the process of sorting out, sifting through, critically analyzing, sensing, feeling, debating, arguing, fighting over which system is best when in fact the three systems grow and evolve one from the other and are synthesizing.

We must get back to the few bits of original ideologies that have survived, get back to the few examples which were documented, clean house of the distortions, perversions and corruptions that were used to discredit, and then find out where this goes as a present and future synthesis for the good of humanity. Taking this additionally into consideration we will continue.

Socialistic is the basis for all ideological 'fluid or flexible' rights of all people. In ADDITION to everyone having equal opportunity access to and being treated to the common life, to the rights over the fundamental needs of life, those who are in greater need and cannot access those rights on their own are given equal opportunity access to those rights. This has been distorted and perverted into Mediumism which is everyone wanting their greater needs met and is again led by centralized authority which uses divide and conquer which is the antithesis of ideological Socialistic organization.

Democratic is the basis for all ideological 'fixed or firm' (one person one vote) rights of all people. In ADDITION to everyone having equal opportunity access to and being treated to the common life AND those who are in greater need and cannot access those rights on their own are given equal opportunity access to those rights, those people in a majority can make other beneficial additions to those rights which DO NOT in any way take away or minimize the Communistic and Socialistic rights of the minorities. This has been distorted and perverted into Minimalism which is the use of the majority against the minority, through the vote, led by centralized authority which is the antithesis of ideological Democratic organization.

Socialistic organization does NOT lead forward to Communistic organization it leads down to the foundational or fundamental Communistic rights on which Socialistic organization is based upon.

Democratic organization must lead down to the fluid or flexible AND foundational or fundamental rights of Socialistic and Communistic organization on which Democratic organization is based upon.

The best country to demonstrate Communistic organization is Russia when it has cleaned it's house of corruption. The best country to demonstrate Socialistic organization is the UK when it has cleaned it's house of corruption. The best country to demonstrate Democratic organization is USA when it has cleaned it's house of corruption.

These three countries must work together to bring into harmony and finally a synthesis of the ideologies of Communistic, Socialistic, and Democratic organization for and by the citizens of their countries not through centralized authority.

These ideologies are inherent in the people and the lands of these three countries and cannot be changed by propaganda or any other way, they are true geopolitical energies and realities of the Western or Occidental mind that must be worked with wholistically.

China, India, Japan and the Eastern or Oriental countries cannot do this, they must rather participate equally and balance their Eastern or Oriental mind and geopolitical energies and realities to those of the Western synthesis of ideologies taking place. A longer discussion of the Eastern geopolitical organizational ideologies in relationship to the West will be discussed more in a future paper.

The Western mind is more masculine or positive and active and the Eastern mind is more feminine or negative and receptive. These two are becoming more balanced.

Again, these energies of East and West are inherent in the people and the lands and cannot be changed by propaganda or any other way, they are true geopolitical energies and realities of the Western or Occidental mind and the Eastern or Oriental mind that must be worked with holistically.

So, the cleansing and synthesis of Communistic, Socialistic, and Democratic geopolitical ideologies and the cleansing and balancing of the Eastern and Western geopolitical energies are happening simultaneously and coming to a greater culmination. This while the hive mind, parental qualities of Pisces are shifting to the group oriented equality qualities of Aquarius, as the determining factors of religion are lessening as the determining factors of politics are strengthening, and humanity as a whole is moving from a more emotional focus to a more mental understanding.

China, India, Japan or other Eastern Oriental nations must not take and must not be persuaded to take on the masculine, positive, active qualities of the Western or Occidental mind or the world will go more out of mental balance instead of coming into greater mental balance. This is being distorted and perverted by greedy and harmful Orientals along with greedy and opportunistic Occidentals who took advantage of them for gain (cheap labor and materials etc.) and the corrupt political organizations of their countries that they have taken control either through dictatorship, in China, etc, or by 'lawfare' (making laws that allow government or corporate corruption), in Russia, USA, and UK.

As the Western countries work out their synthetic geopolitical organization ideologies the Eastern countries must be fully participating and bring their own geopolitical organization ideologies. Both Western and Eastern countries must not be allowed to make 'back room' or secret deals and other corruption must be eliminated. The wealth of these WORLD resources must go to the benefit of the citizens in a synthesized Communistic, Socialistic and Democratic way in the West and in the equitable ways of the East.

And what could be the even higher or greater reason for all of this happening?

According to some it is because humanity itself is ready to advance to the next phase of consciousness, which can be thought of in Biblical terms, as an advancement from the consciousness or awareness of the loving and wise 'Kingdom of Heaven', or 'Kingdom of Enlightened Souls' to consciousness or awareness of the purposeful and willful 'Father's House'. These higher energies of purpose and will and the ideas and ideologies that they stimulate in humanity must be brought into our consciousness as building upon the former qualities of divine intelligence and activity (or the knowledge of love) from the past, and the present qualities of divine love and wisdom (or the wisdom of love) now that are giving way to the new higher divine purpose and will or the (will to Love) as we move into the future. Just as the geopolitical structure of the West has and is progressing and synthesizing from Communistic to Socialistic to Democratic the conscious awareness of humanity is progressing and synthesizing from an intelligent and enlightened humanity on earth to a wise and loving 'Heaven on Earth' to a purposeful and willful 'Place in the Father's House' on Earth.

If this advancement to the purposeful and willful divine energies are not used for the common good of all then evil will break out among humanity in the worst way it has ever broken out. If the harmful, selfish, fearful (afraid to lose what they have either stolen or squandered) evil people are allowed to use these higher purposeful and willful energies to control humanity's future (even for a while) to the point of totalitarian, authoritarian, tyrannical, and dictatorial control then humanity's future will be in their minority hands and not our own majority hands until we reverse the situation. Therefore, it is up to the majority of humanity to use these higher divine energies for its own common good. We are all humanity and it depends on ourselves if we will turn these higher divine purposeful and willful energies to good or evil as a majority.

One enlightening and encouraging invocative mental process to accomplish this advancement of the majority of humanity for the common good is to (since these energies are coming from a higher source) invocatively DEMAND:

From the center which we call the race of men (humanity)
Let the Plan of Love and Light work out (the plan of a loving and intelligent humanity)
And may it seal the door where evil dwells. (the realm of individual harmfulness, selfishness and fearfulness)

We cannot eradicate evil, for that is up to the individual, however we can, and must, surround it and 'seal the door where the evil minority dwells' which is for the majority common good. And this will eventually prevail no matter how long it takes to get there.

How or why did this, is this, and can this evil happen or the common good be lost? What are the simple dynamics of such a global process that we have gotten into and how do we get out of it or turn it to the common good?

If we simply refer to what has previously been mentioned for consideration it is clear that this new and higher form of conscious awareness of the purpose and willful divine energies, even though not as powerful as the energy of love and wisdom, effects the individual consciousness sooner and faster than the collective or group consciousness. Therefore, those individuals who have selfish strong self love (selfish, evil) interests rather than interests for the common good will respond to the higher energies sooner. Once they see the self benefits others of selfish (self love evil) interests will soon follow this most powerful and highest combination of energetic consciousness. After some time these selfish individuals will start forming 'alliances', not true groups, for their own mutual advantage, even though a minority, to take from the common good of the majority. Now there is a building minority of people using the most powerful energy of love for selfish purposes and the higher energy of will to help accomplish their selfish objectives.

At the same time this selfish minority of humanity is building the majority of humanity is slowly opening up to and putting into action for the common good the newer and higher divine energies of purpose and will and starting to apply them to the most powerful energies of love and wisdom. So, it can be looked at as a war or battle, or it can be looked at as a race or competition, of good versus evil, or of light versus dark; it can be viewed as a transition from chaos into order, or from an earthly state into heavenly state, as an initiation of humanity, a complex interaction of energies and forces, a path, or a burning ground, a doorway or portal, or many other ways.

However, in summation it comes to finding out, at least at this time and for now, however length of time that lasts, whether the minority part of humanity who represents the selfish evil part of humanity or the majority part of humanity who represents the common good part of humanity, AND is sensitive to these higher divine purposeful and willful energies, will convince or inspire the rest of the majority of humanity to use BOTH their lovingly wise hearts AND their purposefully willful minds for the common good and overcome the minority of humanity who believe in their own selfish evil interests. This will determine if humanity goes forward with their own selfish interests or the common good as the goal.

And finally it should be clearly stated that just as the selfish evil interests have their own 'hidden players' over shadowing behind the outer personalities in the public arena so also do the common good interests have their own 'enlightened guides' over-lighting the outer personalities in the public arena. Yet, humanity is, and must be, free to choose which path they follow, how far they follow that path and for how long they follow that path. The path of intelligence and loving wisdom is ultimately a path of understanding, caring, sharing, helpfulness, selflessness and ultimately fearlessness. Fearless of one's individual concerns because of belief, faith and personal experience in divine masculine guidance, protection, blessing and over lighting our lives and additionally divine feminine action, education, direction and over seeing our lives. Humanity has come to a part of the path that now also requires the addition of higher purpose and will to continue forward. It is the part of the path that goes beyond intelligence and loving understanding and ADDS purposeful willful sacrifices (the will to love) of individual needs, desires and beliefs for the common higher good yet not letting go of the loving and wise intelligent activities that these sacrifices are built upon and require to go forward to even higher consciousness. To move forward humanity is being asked to 'tighten it's own belt', VOLUNTARILY 'take on its own yoke', 'pull itself up from it's own boot straps', 'enlist in a bigger race, competition, battle or war', 'mount its own cross', 'carry more of its own burden', 'do a house cleaning (not talking about corruption)' etc. not for some centralized, dictatorial, tyrannical, selfish, evil, authority but for the betterment of the majority of humanity while standing on the shoulders of humanity's previous giants and cooperating with those greater beings who do and will continue to over light and over see humanity's destiny through our reliance, belief, faith and trust in them.

An opportunity and a time is here to choose an order of magnitude shift in human awareness for the common good or to wait and have much of the present common good be used for selfish evil purposes by a minority of humanity. If we want to name it, maybe HUMANITY 10X or HUMANITY 10X+ or HUMANITY 10X NOW!, XXXXXXXXXXXX. or just 10X is appropriate. We have X, Space X, disease X, Humanity 2.0 etc., third or however many Reichs or revolutions and everything else, such as, 'Shift's' etc. how about HOOM (Human Order Of Magnitude) etc.

Whatever the name, if you voluntarily choose to make this shift in human conscious awareness, start to do ten times more good. If you pray once a day then start praying ten times a day, if you give something to someone once a day then start to give ten things to someone once a day, if you hold on to God, your faith, a beloved Saint, your pet, your family, your profession, or any other things to be intelligent and loving in your life then hold on ten times stronger. If you have sensitivities, feelings or beliefs that you are 'digging into' for the common good of humanity then dig ten times deeper; if you are a participant or leader in the governments, religions, sciences, arts, cultural, societal/educational and business/economic organizations working for the common good of humanity then work ten times more effectively by reaching and helping ten times as many people understand what is happening and how they must also do ten times more of what they can to effect these new higher divine changes. Everyone who stands for or will change from selfish evil interests to the common good of humanity can and is being encouraged to do this voluntarily, of their own free will. The simplest and easiest ways are to start with luxury items. If you have the luxury of time start by giving more time. If you have the luxury of UNNECESSARY sweets, supplements, travel, clothing, food, media, IT+ (new phones, computers, cars, boats, planes, sports equipment, houses, investments, etc.), smoking, drinking, drugs either prescription, non prescription or illegal work out with appropriate medical advice which are unnecessarily draining you of time and energy and money and put those resources to the use of humanity ten time more than you have in the past. Then after letting go of the luxuries move to the personal habits which are draining you of time and energy and money and put those resources to the use of humanity ten time more than you have in the past. And finally if you still choose to go further then move onto ten times the true intelligent and loving personal sacrifices which will welcome in and bring forward this new and higher divine 'will to love' through divine willful purpose and help to usher in a new level of human consciousness and move humanity forward to greater heights for the common good.
